

About Us

About Us,

Hello, I am the Football Trip Scout. If you are planning a football trip to watch a team play overseas, I can help you with details of How to Get there and around, How to get to the stadium and How to get tickets. I'll also help you find where to stay, where to eat and drink and what to see while you are visiting.

I have watched football games in about 50 cities around the world and add to this list each year. The plan is to have guides to Planning a Football Trip to 50 cities by the end of the year and then at least 24 new guides every year.

The guides are free for you to use when planning your trip and are based on the research and planning and my experiences visiting the cities featured. Remember of course that cities changes, bars close and what was good one year might not be good the next. So I'd use the guides as a starting point for your own research and wouldn't take each word as gospel.

If you want any help planning a football trip either for somewhere featured on the site or anywhere else, please email me at headscout@footballtripscout.com. I'll be happy to help where I can. If you live or have recently visited one of the cities featured and want to correct any of the information or add your own tips, please email me at the same address, your help is much appreciated.

We want to know about your Football Trips, if you want to feature on our Trip Report Section, then please send us around 500 words or more telling us about your latest Football Trip. We'll offer a prize to the best we receive each year. If you have any great pictures of your Football Trip, we will be happy to feature them in our galleries and again will offer a prize for the best pictures received.

As well as the football trip guides, we have a section call Football Bucket List where we ask you to tell use the games and the grounds that you would most like to visit. If you would like to feature in this, all we need is you email bucketlist@footballtripscout.com with your lists of Bucket List games or grounds to visit. If you want to enter our competition, write around 500 words or more telling us why these are your Bucket List places to visit.

If you have any suggestions for how we can improve the site, please send them to headscout@footballtripscout.com
